

Mr. Lawrence Liu

Senior Counsel, Congressional-Executive Commission on China, Washington, D.C.

Lawrence Liu has been with the Congressional-Executive Commission on China since August 2006. Before joining the CECC, Mr. Liu spent three years in the New York and Beijing offices of Sullivan & Cromwell. After graduating with a degree in public policy from Brown University, Mr. Liu spent one year in Taiwan researching elementary school English education as a Fulbright fellow. He also spent one year in Taiwan as a reporter for the Taiwan News covering politics. While at Columbia Law School, Mr. Liu interned in the Beijing office of Jun He Law Offices and wrote about China's consumer protections laws.